lajore and retard that work, as it tends to lessen my influence, which has always been used for the cultivation and advancement of that scutiment which sooner or later will destroy the liquor traffic in Virginia. I am a total quor traffic in Virginia. I am a total abstainer, the use of alcohol is absolutely prohibited in the mansion, where not adrop can be found, and in almost every speech I make about any subject I manage to make some reference to temperance which shows my position on that question and throws whatever weight I may have in favor of it. Surely, anything tending to lessen that influence is not in the interest of temperance.

"If the Anti-Saloon League has won victories in the past, it has been because earnest, consecrated men joined together in a common cause to fight a common evil, and who in accord upon the end to be reached allowed, each to the other, that freedom of opinion and that independence of view as to methods which is the birthright of every American. It presages an evil day for the league when this spirit is violated, and any officer of the league takes occasion in his official capacity to criticize any other officer or member, because his views of methods do not happen to be in accord with his own.

"I am not here to defend my record, which in my judgment needs no defense. I am willing to be and must be judged by my fruits, and am not averse to a comparison of what I have been able to accomplish with the results achieved by any other man in Virginia. For forty years, at first standing alone, except for the support given by one Baptist and one Methodist preacher, I have devoted myself to this cause, rejoicing in the sacritives it involved, and grateful to God for the victories wrought in behalf of temperance and righteousness. During all this time I have sought no other guide than my own conscience and the advice of my brothers in the work. I have never hesitated to express my views, whether popular or not. I have always been openly and strongly on the side of temperance, and never for a moment allied directly or indirectly with any movement opposed to it.

The Rev. Mr. Atkins has said that my views of the liquor question were known in 1909, when I was a candidate for Governor. He is of all men competent to speak upon that a candidate for Governor. "Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I had been suffering from heart trouble for over five years. I had grown so weak that it was impossible for me to do thirty minutes work in a whole day. I suffered intense pains in my left side and under the left shoulder blade, I could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath that I thought I should never be able to take a full breath again. The least excitement would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had scarcely taken a half-bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. I began to sleep well, had a good appetite, and improved so rapidly that when I had taken six bottles I was completely cured.
